EROTIC ART MADE IN MONTRÉAL

Shunga Erotic Art, a Canadian manufacturer of lubricants, massage oils and other sensual and intimate wellness products, has already developed some sought-after product lines in Japanese-styled packaged during the past decade. Their assortment is constantly growing – now there are four new and tasty flavors from Monoi, Divine Oral Pleasure and Organica Massage Oils available.

The Oral Pleasure Gloss is more than a lip gloss

Bath additives – bringing sensuality to the bathroom

ORGANICA MASSAGE OIL

Flavored and edible massage oils can significantly add to the pleasure and sensuality felt by partners who massage each other's bodies. Now the Organica collection at Shunga Erotic Art was enhanced by two new flavors, which are Chocolate and Almond Sweetness. Adding a taste of chocolate and almond to intimate caresses, they are to make these moments even sweeter. Both oils are 100 percent organic with regard to their ingredients as they do not contain any animal or mineral oils and thus are good to use for vegans. They are edible with a non-greasy texture so that they do not clog the skin pores of any partner. Instead, they give a succulent feel, especially on the massaged partner's skin.

DIVINE ORAL PLEASURE GLOSS – COCONUT WATER

Lip gloss is usually known as a part of a person's cosmetic routine while applying makeup. But this lip gloss can do more than just make someone's lips shine. Applied on the lips, this lip gloss was developed to enhance pleasure during oral sex, both for the giving and the receiving person. The warming or cooling effect of the gloss is designed to sensitize and excite both the male and female intimate areas by maintaining a stimulating sensation right up to the point of orgasm. The coconut flavor adds an aspect of sweetness to oral play.

One can immediately identify a product made by Shunga Erotic Art whenever one sees it; the typically Japanese package design is an immediate eye-catcher at the trade show booth or in the erotica shop. With Shunga products, every intimate encounter shall become a sensual celebration, just like a ritual of love and tenderness. All massage and intimate pleasure products, lubricants, body care and bath consumables, and gift sets are produced and distributed in and from Montréal without any of the necessary processes being outsourced. Shunga consumables are distributed all over the world and a popular addition to store assortments all over the world. Sign Magazine presents four of Shunga's recent flavors.

MONOI – EROTIC MASSAGE OIL

The new Monoi Erotic Massage Oil is a good argument for giving or receiving a soothing massage intermingled with sensual caresses. The oil only contains 100 percent natural ingredients and the flavor of Monoi, which is a flower from Tahiti with a fresh and sensual smell. The flowery aroma is to arouse the senses and to relax the partners during the massage while the fragranced oil is gliding easily and smoothly over the skin.
