A FRESH BREEZE AND A HINT OF SUMMER

>> The British wholesaler Creative Conceptions has a great deal planned for the spring and summer seasons. Apart from the sexual wellness sector with their own condom brand called Skins, the entire line from Erotic Arts and the lubricant line ID Lubricants, they will also focus on the growing market for stag parties, because the wedding season is just around the corner.

Spring is in full swing and with the summer season just around the corner, it will be sexual and intimate health as a part of general well being that will be the main focus. For women this also means the strengthening of the pelvic muscles, in order to improve sexual sensitivity and to avoid complications such as incontinence or improve it. Creative Conceptions recently introduced the GBalls2 for this reason, which are vibrating Kegel-balls that react differently to various levels of pressure, as Sales Advisor Alix Turton-Wilson explains: "We call it the "bio-feedback" technology. The harder you squeeze the stronger the vibration you get. Gballs2 also comes with the Magic APP, which will be your customer's Personal Smart Coach, guiding each customer through the process, helping to choose the most effective mode for them and track their progress. Gballs2 can be personalised in many ways."

LUBRICANT AND MASSAGE OILS: FROM FRESH TO SWEET

The spring and summer of 2015 has something for every taste and smell, and Creative Conceptions is placing a great deal of emphasis on consumer goods such as lubricants and massage accessories, for example with their brand ID Lubricants and products from Shunga Erotic Art, which are now available to customers via Creative Conceptions. Apart from the Coconut Divine Oral Pleasure Gloss and the new Organica massage oils Chocolate and Almond Sweetness from the Shunga brand, the British wholesaler also has Monoi in their assortment. "Monoi, the sensual massage oil, is ideal for giving or receiving a soothing massage intermingled with sensual caresses; this 100% natural oil with its intoxicating fragrance glides easily and smoothly over the skin without leaving any greasy residue. With the fresh smell of the

PASSION? OF COURSE, BUT SAFELY!

Creative Conceptions pays special attention to their own condom brand called Skins, which advertises with the slogan "Never go in without a Skin!" Contraception and protection against sexually transmitted diseases are an integral part of sexual health, and Skins introduces the lust and fun factor. "Our main focus currently sits with our Skins Condoms. We have spent a lot of time and research to expand our Skins Sexual Healthcare range to fulfil the wants and needs of the end consumer. Getting this new range perfect for you and your customers is crucial, and we cannot wait to reveal these exciting lines soon", announced Turton-Wilson. Because
